EXCELLENT

Results Expected to Follow the Meeting of the Central Committee.

"Tony the Convict," Will Be Repeated Shortly After Advent.

Consolidation of Several Small Branches Was Favorably Discussed.

ORDER MAKES SPLENDID PROGRESS

The Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America held one of the best meetings in its history on Friday night of last week. The attendance was not only good, but the discussions, while spirited, were good-natured and were the means of arousing interest in affairs of the order. President Michael Reichert occupied the chair, and when Secretary Martin called the roll every officer answered except Thomas Dignan. Twelve branches were represented by one or more delegates. Secretary Martin called attention to the fact that certain delegates had absented themselves for several months past. This caused a general discussion over the attendance of members of the committee and the importance of attending each meeting was pointed out. The committee individually and collectively commended the minutes of Secretary Martin as the most complete ever kept by any Secretary of the committee.

Charles A. Hill reported progress for the Organization Committee. During the discussion that followed several members expressed themselves in favor of the consolidation of some of the smaller branches. Newton G. Rogers reported that a handsome sum had been realized as the net result of the recent dramatic entertainment. This was gratifying news to all the members of the committee, and a number of the delegates announced that they had been solicited by many persons to repeat the performance at an early date. It was the consensus of opinion that President Reichert and Ben Speaker be requested to get their performers together and repeat "Tony the Convict." On the suggestion of Mr. Rogers it was decided not to repeat the performance until after Advent. Both St. Martin's and St. Joseph's halls were tendered the committee for the occasion. The Entertainment Committee was called to meet one week later at Mr. Rogers' office to arrange for the coming performance. It is probable that the committee will decide to give "Tony the Convict" at St. Joseph's hall on Monday, December 28. President Reichert complimented Messrs. Newton G. Rogers and John Scholda on the efficacy of their work.

Amendments to the constitution were adopted which more clearly define the duties of the auditors who will be named in December. Under the head of good of the order W. C. Smith took the floor and spoke at some length on the duties of branch officers, who should always be prompt in securing beneficiaries their warrants, thus avoiding unnecessary delays and preventing injustice. Patrick Holley brought good news from Branch 21 and spoke at length of the indiscreet habit of some of the members of publicly criticizing the order. Thomas Feeley invited the Central Committee to the church to be given by the Catholic Federation. Resolutions of sympathy for Edmund Rapp, who recently lost a son, were adopted.

A letter was read from the Supreme President, Dr. F. Gaudin, of New Orleans, who expressed his pleasure at the splendid progress being made by the order. The matter of consolidating several of the smaller branches, which had been discussed earlier in the evening, was referred to the branches and to Messrs. Feeley, Veeneman and Thickett. The meeting then adjourned.

OFFICIAL VISIT

Paid Mackin Council by Grand President Kelly and Staff.

Mackin Council, Y. M. I., held a well attended meeting on Tuesday night. President Murphy was in the chair. The Visiting Committee reported that Charles Smith and Councilman Augustus J. Bizot, both of whom have been suffering from typhoid fever, are improving.

The annual mass for deceased members of the council will be celebrated at St. Anthony's church at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning, November 29. Members of the council will attend the mass in a body and receive holy communion. The members were reminded that a pray encire would be given next Monday night, the proceeds to be used in defraying the expenses of the series of free eucharists that have been given this fall.

During the meeting Grand President James B. Kelly paid the council an official visit. He was accompanied by Grand Secretary George J. Lautz, Grand Director William O'Connor, Deputy-at-Large Edward Bosler and William Hiltnerich, first Vice President of Trinity Council. Speeches were made by each of the visitors and by District Deputy Vincent B. Smith, Council Deputy Clarence H. Zook and by members of Mackin Council. All of the addresses dealt with the good of the order and members of the council were benefited by the visit of Grand President Kelly and staff.

At the meeting next Tuesday night officers for the ensuing year will be nominated. The election will be held the week following. A good attendance is desired at both meetings. After the routine business has been disposed of, Samuel J. Boldrick, the well known attorney, will deliver a lecture. Mr. Boldrick is one of the rising young members of the Louisville bar and is a veteran member of the Young Men's Institute.

BURKE-REARDON.

Happy Couple to Be Married at St. Louis Bertrand's Church.

David J. Burke and Miss Estella Rose Reardon will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Louis Bertrand's at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, November 25. Following the ceremony nuptial mass will be celebrated. The choir, under the direction of Prof. Weiss, will render a special musical programme. After a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's uncle, Michael J. Reardon, Mr. and Mrs. Burke will take a bridal trip. They will be at home to their friends at 1514 Seventh street after December 5. Mr. Burke is one of the best known and most popular men on the Louisville police force. He was formerly employed by the Louisville Railway Company, where he was well liked both by employers and fellow-employees. He took a prominent part in union affairs and was an officer in the motor-men's union. His bride-to-be is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Reardon on Oldham street, and is one of the prettiest and most charming young ladies in St. Louis Bertrand's parish. She has been connected with the New York Store for several years and is deservedly popular. The church will be filled by the many friends of the young couple, who are anxious to witness the ceremony and to bid them Godspeed on their journey through life.

WELL DESERVED

Is the Promotion of Thomas Cody, a Hustling Irish-American.

Thomas Cody, who for six years past has been one of the leading local representatives of the Senn & Ackermann Brewing Company, has been transferred to a more important position with the Central Consumers' Company, which embraces all the local breweries. Tom will be in charge of the shipping and foreign trade, which he is peculiarly fitted for, owing to his knowledge of the railroad business. This is a well merited promotion, and comes as a recognition of faithful service. He is a little Irishman with a big heart. He will be succeeded in his former position by Martin Lehterich, until recently the local manager of the Indianapolis Brewing Company.

GROWING COUNCIL.

Chickasaws Are Taking in Members and Attracting Attention.

Chickasaw Council, Y. M. I., of Memphis, is rapidly coming to the front under the able administration of President M. Carrigan and will soon stand among the foremost Catholic societies in Tennessee. The old condition of doubt which so long retarded progress has been replaced by a feeling of confidence.

A few weeks ago the Chickasaw Council gave a complimentary dance to members and their friends, and the event was pronounced the social success of the season. On Thursday fourteen new members were initiated. There is every indication that the council will take in many other new members within a short time.

NEED MORE ROOM.

Sts. Mary and Elizabeth's Hospital is now crowded with patients. Not only are all the wards filled, but the private rooms also. If the good Sisters of Charity had the means they would build an additional wing to the institution. These good women have done a great work in Louisville in attending the sick and injured regardless of class or creed. It is hoped that our public spirited citizens will place sufficient means at their disposal to enable the Sisters to continue their good work on a more elaborate scale. Many patients are received at this hospital through charity, from which the Sisters receive no material return.

HER FIRST VOWS.

Miss Cassie Kavanagh, daughter of Jeremiah Kavanagh, who entered the novitiate of the Dominican Sisters at St. Catherine's, near Springfield, about six weeks ago, will receive the white habit on January 5. She will be known in religion as Sister Calista. She is the second daughter of Mr. Kavanagh to enter the Dominican sisterhood. Miss Isabel Kavanagh entered the order eleven years ago and is known as Sister Agatha. She is now teaching in the St. Louis Bertrand parochial school in this city.

MILITARY

Company to Be Organized by Hibernians in Near Future.

Members Will Be Selected From the Four Local Divisions.

May Be Mustered Into Service as Part of the State Guard.

MOVEMENT SHOULD PROVE POPULAR

The long-talked-of organization of a military company among local Hibernians seems to have assumed a definite shape and at the meeting of Division 3 on Monday night it was determined to make the discussion of the matter a special order of business at the next meeting.

President Thomas Quinn presided and the applications of William Bancroft, Patrick Sheehan and Martin Mullen were received. The report of the Treasurer showed a balance of $990 on hand.

The matter of organizing the Hibernian military company was then broached and after some discussion was made a special order of business for the meeting to be held December 7, when a full attendance is desired.

It is proposed to organize this company from the four local divisions. While a majority of the members of the order favor such an organization, opinion has not been concentrated upon whether it should be a company of rifles or swords. There are those who favor an organization similar to the old Hibernian Knights, which company until it disbanded made a favorable impression in parades, etc.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that a company of Hibernian rifles would be more up to date, and if the proper regulations were complied with could be mustered into the State service as a militia company. In this event the State would furnish the arms and the uniforms, while the Hibernian rifle would in turn be asked to furnish their own armory and to do duty as militiamen in case the State called upon them. Not a great many years ago there was a company of Irish-Americans in Louisville well and favorably known as the Sarsfield Rifles. They did great service for the State and at the same time were regarded with admiration by the Irish-American residents of this city and Commonwealth.

At the next meeting of Division 3 the members of all the other divisions are expected to be present and to express their views on the proposed organization. At the same time an organizer will be selected and the work of getting the company together will be pushed to conclusion.

IRISH POET.

William Butler Yeats Will Lecture Before University Students.

William Butler Yeats, undoubtedly the best known of Irish living poets, is now en route to the United States. He has been invited to lecture before the students of the universities of Pennsylvania, Harvard and Yale.

Mr. Yeats is not only known as an Irish poet, but is recognized as one of the strongest forces in English literature of the present day. He is also peculiarly gifted as an orator and will deliver several lectures in some of the larger cities. Early in December he will be accorded a public reception in Carnegie Hall, New York, and on December 6 he will lecture in Brooklyn for the benefit of the Brooklyn Irish Settlement Society. His subject will be "The Heroic Age in Irish Poetry."

MUSIC AT ST. PATRICK'S.

Tomorrow will be the last Sunday before Advent begins, and as a consequence Prof. James Perry, the organist and choir director of St. Patrick's church, on Thirteenth and Market, has prepared an elaborate musical programme. The regular choir will be assisted by Miss Fannie Tomkins, a young violinist, niece of Prof. Perry; Prof. Elchorn, the cornetist, and vocalists from other choirs. Haydn's first mass will be rendered. At the gradual Prof. Elchorn will render a cornet solo. Miss Bettie Lincoln will sing the "Veni Creator" and will be accompanied by the organ and cornet. The trio from "Attila" will be given at the offertory by Miss Bettie Lincoln, Frank Zuernier and John Hodapp. After the elevation Miss Lincoln will sing the "O Salutaris" and will be accompanied by the violin, cornet and organ. Handel's "Largo" will be given at the close of the mass, with Miss Tomkins as violinist and Prof. Perry organist.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Miss Mary Hamilton McNabb, of Rochester, N. Y., who is conducting the class in physical culture at the Catholic Woman's Club, is meeting with unqualified success. The first class of fifty has been filled and a second class of fifty will begin work on Monday night.

THE IRISH JAUNTING CAR.

You may boast about your rail With its "special" and its "mail," Of your cycle and your motor speeding far;

You are welcome to the three If you leave, ayra, to me, Just the old, familiar Irish jaunting car.

Sure for ever in the mind Is its memory entwined With the dearest recollections that there are,

Like a picture from the past That no change can overcast Is the old, familiar Irish jaunting car.

In the morning long ago How my boyish heart would glow— Ah, no sorrow then life's happiness could mar—

As we hastened to the fair And the fun that waited there, On the old, familiar Irish jaunting car.

And when evening gathered down On the little market town And we rattled home by light of moon or star,

How merry was our song As we gaily drove along On the old, familiar Irish jaunting car.

On the gladsome wedding morn, When the dew was on the corn, Sure its little then we recked of jolt or jar.

While we proudly drove "in state" From the cheerful haggard gate On the old, familiar Irish jaunting car.

And when Sunday came around And the happy holy sound Of the chapel bell came stealing from afar,

Well we knew its sweet intent, And to mass we wearily went, On the old, familiar Irish jaunting car.

Ah, the olden vanished days, With their quaint, romantic ways, In your present prosy time they have no par;

Sure the earth was fairer then, Fresh unfolding to our ken, From the old, familiar Irish jaunting car.

But the world is altered now And the years have blanched my brow; I am fading far away from scenes that are,

To the churchyard cold below They will take me soon, I know, On the old, familiar Irish jaunting car.

YOUNG LADIES

Of St. Boniface's Parish Will Entertain With Eucharist and Oysters.

The ladies of St. Boniface's parish are preparing to give social functions during three days next week. On Tuesday afternoon and evening they will conduct a eucharist in St. Boniface's school hall, on Green street, between Jackson and Hancock, where a number of handsome prizes will be awarded, and on Wednesday and Thursday evenings they will give oyster suppers in the same hall. On Thursday afternoon a coffee social will be given for the ladies.

Those in charge of the proposed entertainments are Misses Clara Nolbe, Katie Ising, Lula Moellman, Mary Fritsch and other ladies of the parish. The proceeds of the several entertainments will be devoted to the organ fund. A large attendance at each of these affairs will encourage the ladies interested.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.

A number of the young friends of Thomas D. Clines gave him a surprise at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Higgins, on Madison street, on Monday evening, the occasion being the celebration of his twenty-second birthday. Mr. Clines had been invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Higgins to spend the evening. When he arrived he found a number of his friends had arrived ahead of him. He was at once surrounded and congratulated by them on his anniversary. Dancing followed and a general good time ensued. Later in the evening when the guests assembled at the supper table Mr. Clines was presented with a handsome diamond stickpin, the gift of his friends and acquaintances. Those present at the pleasant surprise were: Misses Stella Carter, Mary Higgins, Lillian Bruker, May Abell, Hattie Higgins, Bettie Connors, Carrie Brachet and Mary Clines, and Messrs. Charles Parsons, John Clines, Roy Campbell, Clarence Nevin, Thomas Clines, Gus Vaccu, Hugh Higgins, Mrs. Mary Clines and Mr. and Mrs. William M. Higgins.

ELECTIONS COMING ON.

Attention is called to the fact that the various branches of the Catholic Knights of America will hold their annual election of officers next month. The many councils of the Young Men's Institute and many other Catholic societies will also elect officers for the ensuing year. It behooves the members of all these societies to attend the meetings when elections are held and see that competent and intelligent officers are chosen.

PAIR IN CLIFTON.

The fair to be given December 1 to 10, for the benefit of St. Frances of Rome church, Clifton, is a subject of interesting discussion in all parts of the city. The various committees of ladies and gentlemen, who are interested in the undertaking, are holding weekly meetings and all report favorable progress.

MEETING

At Limerick Addressed by the Hon. John E. Redmond and Others.

Deplores Resignation of O'Brien and Hopes He Will Reconsider.

Tells of Terms of Sale Granted Tenants On His Wexford Estate.

VARIOUS RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

The Hon. John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish party in Parliament, visited the city of Limerick last Sunday and was given a great ovation. He was met at the railroad station by a committee and escorted to the place where the speaking was to be held. Every parish in the county was represented. In his address the Irish leader deplored the resignation of William O'Brien and told what a loss he would be to the party. He said if he had known of O'Brien's intention to resign he would have besought him not to carry out his intention. Continuing, Mr. Redmond said that the members of the party would renew their efforts to have William O'Brien reconsider his intention, and announced that he thought at the coming meeting of the Irish Parliamentary party and of the Directory of the United Irish League a successful appeal would be made to Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. Redmond stated that the majority of the Irish party had supported Mr. O'Brien's conciliatory policy, while the irreconcilable section of the landlords were mainly trying to counteract that policy and were justifying their attitude by referring to his estate in Wexford. He said that his property was sold on terms which gave the tenants reductions of 40 per cent. and wiped out two years of arrears in the rentals, equivalent to sixteen and a half years' purchase on rents, or 25 per cent. below Griffith's valuation.

Other speakers at the meeting were Messrs. Patrick Bourke, Mayor Joyce, John Earls, Michael Cuddihy and John Slattery. Resolutions were adopted in favor of home rule, a Catholic university, requesting Mr. O'Brien to reconsider his resignation and opposing emigration.

Mr. Redmond's address made a very favorable impression and the feeling seems to prevail that Mr. O'Brien will reconsider his intention to resign. John Clancy, M. P., presided over a meeting of Nationalists in Dublin, who protested against the importation of rolling stock from England and Scotland. A resolution calling upon the railway directors to have the work done at home was adopted.

GRIM DEATH

Has Summoned Many Christians During the Past Week.

The funeral of T. Green Johnson, who was run down and killed by a Pewee Valley car on Friday of last week, took place from St. Cecilia's church on Sunday afternoon. The deceased leaves a wife and several children, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their terrible bereavement.

Miss Anna Hardman, aged fifty years, and a well known and respected lady of South Louisville, died at St. Anthony's hospital on Monday. The funeral took place from Holy Name Church on Wednesday. The deceased was a daughter of the late William Hardman, a respected and influential farmer of the High Grove neighborhood in Nelson County.

James Brady died at the residence of his brother-in-law, Michael Quinn, 1723 Baird street, on Tuesday. The deceased was thirty-one years old and was the son of the late Matthew and Julia Brady. The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock on Friday morning and was largely attended. Mr. Brady was an active Hibernian and a devout Catholic. His many friends regret his early demise.

John P. Hyland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hyland, died at the family residence, 1434 Twelfth street, on Friday of last week. Deceased was twenty-five years old and was an exemplary and highly respected young man. The family have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement. His funeral took place from Sacred Heart church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the solemn services being largely attended.

The death of Miss Emma Watson McCann, of Jeffersonville, which occurred on Tuesday, although it had been expected, was a source of regret to her many friends both in Louisville and in Indiana. The young lady had been suffering from Bright's disease for some time past and spent several months in Florida hoping to gain relief. She returned home a few weeks ago apparently improved, but soon after took a turn for the worse and sank steadily to the end. The deceased was the daughter of Mrs. Mary S. McCann and the late Michael V. McCann, who was for several years auditor of Clark county, Ind. Miss McCann was a highly

FIERCE FLAMES

Destroyed the Old Masonic Temple Building, Entailing a Great Loss.

Fowler Drug Co.'s New Store Went Up in a Cloud of Smoke.

Fearless Firemen Fought the Flames and Prevented Loss of Block.

RESULT OF EARLY MORNING BLAZE

Fire of an unknown origin destroyed the old Masonic Temple building on the southwest corner of Fourth and Jefferson early Friday morning, entailing a loss of more than $400,000. In the destruction of the building the stock and fixtures of Fowler Drug Company, the Boston Shoe Company, Rodgers & Krull, C. B. Smith's Sons and Byck Bros. were also destroyed as well as the Hopkins' Theater on the upper floors of the building.

The fire was discovered shortly after 3 o'clock, and only the prompt work of the firemen prevented the destruction of the entire block bounded by Fourth, Fifth, Green and Jefferson streets. It is supposed that crossed electric light wires on the Fourth avenue side of the stage was responsible for the fire, though this is not definitely known. When the fire was discovered the flames had burst through the windows on the Fourth avenue side. An alarm was at once sent in. Second and third alarms followed almost immediately.

In twenty minutes after the fire had been discovered flames were pouring out of every window in the big building. Meanwhile it seemed that the building occupied by the English Kitchen would also fall a victim to the flames. The roomers in this building were aroused and escaped to the street in safety. The heat became so terrific that the firemen had to remove their engines from the vicinity of the fire. The fire worked downward and within an hour after it had been discovered the floor of the theater fell in, destroying the stores beneath.

One of the heaviest losers was the Fowler Drug Company. This firm only recently refitted the drug store in the northeast corner of the building. The new fixtures, including a $10,000 soda fountain, were totally destroyed. The loss to the Fowler Drug Company alone is estimated at $80,000. Henry Heath's new billiard parlors on the second floor on the Green street side of the building were also destroyed, causing a loss of $5,000. The handsome jewelry store of Rodgers & Krull with its stock worth $25,000 was also consumed; C. B. Smith's Sons, hat-makers, lost a stock of $15,000. The loss to the Boston Shoe Co. was $20,000 and to Byck Bros. shoe store $15,000. The building is a total loss. It was estimated as worth $300,000. All of the storekeepers were at least partially insured. Probably the greatest sufferers will be the vandale stars, who were engaged in the Hopkins Theater, who lost their wardrobe and properties.

The old Masonic Temple was one of Louisville's landmarks. It was erected more than thirty years ago and during all that time it has never been tenanted. Many secret societies had their lodge rooms on the upper floors, while the second floor was used as a theater and the lower floor as store rooms. In days long gone by it was the scene of many Irish-American festivities. Catholic fairs have been held within its walls. The late Charles Stewart Parnell, Michael Davitt and other eminent Irish Nationalists have spoken from its stage. It was a strong, substantial edifice and seemed good for years to come. Several years ago it was sold by the Masonic order to Jones Bros., who made many costly improvements. The loss of the property is felt by the entire community, who sympathize with the public spirited citizens who had their money invested in the building and in stores.

PROFITABLE CHANGE.

Robert Gleason, who has served years as a guard at the Jeffersonville Reformatory, has resigned to accept a position with the Union Carriage and Rattan Company. The place carries with it a big increase in salary. Mr. Gleason is receiving the congratulations of many friends. Mr. Gleason is a prominent member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and Knights of Columbus.

TAKES A REST.

The Rev. J. H. Hildebrand, pastor of St. Mary's-of-the-Knobs parish, in Lafayette township, Ind., has gone to Mount Clemens, Mich., for rest and recuperation. This is the first vacation Father Hildebrand has taken in seventeen years. It is hoped that he will return with renewed health and vigor.

EUCHE AND DANCE.

Unity Council, Y. M. I., of New Albany, will give a euchar and dance to its members and their friends on Friday evening, November 27. The euchar will be played from 8:15 until 10 o'clock. Dancing will then be indulged in until midnight.

NEW COUNCIL

Knights of Columbus Will Be Instituted at Owensboro Tomorrow.

About 200 of the local members of the Knights of Columbus will go to Owensboro tomorrow to institute a new council in that city. A class of about sixty will receive the three degrees. The first degree will be conferred by the Covington degree team. The Evansville team will confer the second and the Louisville team will confer the third degree. Between 300 and 400 knights from various parts of the country will be in attendance.

The annual solemn mass of requiem for deceased members of the Knights of Columbus will be celebrated at St. Philip Neri's church at 8 o'clock next Tuesday morning. The Rev. Father Ackerman will officiate and will be assisted by other local priests who are members of the order.

De Smet Council, of St. Louis, will exemplify the third degree before a large class tomorrow. Bishop Schwellach, of La Crosse, having given his consent, a new council will be instituted at Ashland, Wis.

One week from tomorrow a new council will be instituted at Springfield, Mo. Kenrick Council, of St. Louis, will assist in the degree work.

HANDSOME CHURCH

Dedicated At Macon in Presence of Many High Dignitaries.

St. Joseph's church at Macon, Ga., was dedicated last Sunday. The Right Rev. Bishop Northrop, of Charleston, S. C., conducted the dedicatory services and celebrated pontifical mass, and Bishop Kelley, of Savannah, delivered the sermon. Among the other prominent churchmen present were Bishops Kenny of St. Augustine, Allen of Mobile, and Monaghan of Wilmington, N. C.

St. Joseph's church has been under construction during the past fourteen years, and is considered one of the handsomest structures in the South. Thousands of Catholics from various Southern cities were in attendance at the dedicatory services.

GROWING FAST

Sarto Council Making Great Headway in Owensboro.

Sarto Council, Y. M. I., is making good progress. It now has forty-six members in good standing and ten applications to be acted upon. The officers expect to have 100 members before the next grand council. The council hall has been carpentered, fitted out with new furniture and a comfortable heating apparatus has been put in. The place looks prosperous and is a center of attraction for the young men.

Sarto Council will have its first annual mass celebrated on the first Sunday in December, when the members will approach holy communion in a body.

TRINITY'S MINSTRELS.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., will give a minstrel performance at their hall, 718 East Gray street, tomorrow evening and on Wednesday evening. Frank Ackerman, Thomas J. Garvey, William Kramer, T. F. Burke, Andy Jones, and others will sing the latest and most popular songs, and Joseph Crush will give an exhibition of club swinging. Charles Parsons, Frank P. Burke and Thomas D. Clines will appear in their original sketch, entitled "The New Boy." The Aeolian Glee Club will sing a number of melodies and John C. Rieger will appear in recitations. "Joe Simpson's Double," a laughable comedy, will conclude the performance.

IRISH FEDERATION.

A federation of Catholic societies has been formed in Ireland similar to the Catholic Federation formed in the United States. National Secretary Anthony Matre, at Cincinnati, has received an official communication to this effect from the Supreme Secretary of the Catholic Association of Ireland.

WE SHOULD GIVE THANKS.

Next Thursday will be celebrated all over the United States as Thanksgiving day, a national holiday. It is one of the great American national holidays—in fact the only American national holiday that has any religious significance. It is set apart by the President of the United States as a day of thanksgiving to God Almighty for the favors we have received in years past and to beg that He would continue to send his blessings upon this country and people. It is customary for the Governors of the different States to follow the President's proclamation each year with their respective proclamations. This year President Roosevelt has issued his proclamation, which has been followed by the proclamations of the various Governors, including that of our own Gov. Beckham. However, the religious spirit of the day has fallen into decay. More time and thought are expended nowadays on football games, theaters, turkey, cranberry sauce and pumpkin pies than on the spirit of the day. Comparatively few there are who turn backward the leaves of memory and say: "I thank thee, O Heavenly Father, for the blessings that I have received during the past year."

Thanksgiving day should be dear to every Irish-American, man, woman and child. It should be dear to every Catholic in these great United States. We have all, even the humblest, something to be thankful for.

We can thank God as a nation we enjoy peace and prosperity at home; that we are on friendly terms with the nations abroad. As citizens of Kentucky we can thank God that peace has settled within its borders; that its people are industrious and prosperous and are working for the greater good of the Commonwealth. We can thank the Almighty God for the prosperity that has come to our city; for work, for the energy, for the intelligence of our people, and for the education of our children.

Individually we can thank God for health and strength; for the grace He has granted us in permitting us to know Him and serve Him. If we or our families have been chastened by the loss of a friend or relative, or by the loss of material wealth, we can still return thanks to Him from whom all blessings flow that our troubles have been no worse. Thanksgiving day should not be allowed to pass with neglect or indifference. We can all find something to be thankful for.

BEWARE DIVORCED MEN.

Girls and young women should avoid the society of divorced men as they would a pestilence. No possible good can come from such associations and young women should guard their good names with jealousy. They must even avoid the appearance of evil. When a girl permits a divorced man to call upon her, to walk with her on the streets, to accompany her to places of amusement, she has certainly lost some of her self-respect. How, then, can she expect others to respect her?

During the past week a murder trial has been in progress in the local courts in which the victim was a girl of good repute until she met a divorced man. The man was not only responsible for her fall from virtue, but appears to have been an accessory before the fact to her murder. These are not pleasant things to discuss, but it occasionally becomes necessary to use harsh measures in dealing with vice. If that Indiana girl had shunned a divorced man she would not be today in a dishonored grave. It is the duty of parents and guardians to inquire into the lives of the male associates of the children God has given them. Divorced men should be hunted from the door with a shotgun if a boot toe fails to be convincing.

TOO STRENUOUS.

President Roosevelt in his recent message concerning the new Republic of Panama is guilty of an expression that is destined to live as long as there are envious people in the world. In speaking of the people of Colombia and their ownership of the Isthmus of Panama he says: "The accident of possession."

With all due regard to Mr. Roosevelt, is he not President of the United States by accident? In plain English, he advocates taking possession of the property of some other person if we feel that we can enjoy it or make better use of it than the other fellow. This is a barbarous doctrine.

There have been accidents of birth, and accidents by which a hated language became the language of a nation. But this accident of a nation possessing a country is new and strange.

What is to prevent the combined powers of Europe from swooping down on the United States and taking our country from us, claiming that we only hold it by the accident of possession? What is there to prevent the strong from despoiling the weak anywhere if the strong fancy that the weak hold something by accident of possession? President Roosevelt is strenuous at all times, but in this case it must have been a fault of the head and not of the heart.

TELL THE TRUTH.

The Elizabethtown News says the time has passed when a newspaper can have any influence in changing men's opinions upon politics, which sees only good in its own party and only evil in the other. The newspaper of influence today in Kentucky is the paper which will commend the right and condemn the wrong in all parties. The Elizabethtown News is exactly right.

The modern editor can do more good by telling exactly what has happened than by exploiting his individual opinion. Of course he makes enemies by telling all the truth all the time, but you know "truth is mighty and will prevail."

The Kentucky Irish American's World's Fair contest moves on apace. Each day brings more ballots for the candidates. Next week the standing of the contestants will be published. Those who are holding back votes will please have them in by Wednesday evening, as Thursday will be Thanksgiving day and a national holiday; hence the votes will be counted one day earlier. Do not fail to have your friends vote for you. This is an occasion where you can vote early and often.

The American Federation of Labor, which has been in session in Boston during the past two weeks, deserves to be congratulated on not only rejecting resolutions pledging it to Socialism, but in openly and emphatically rebuking Socialists. No good can come to the labor unions through Socialism. It would only lead to unrest, a disregard of law and anarchy. All honor to President Gompers and the hosts who stood by him.

SOCIETY.

Miss Doris Riley, of Owensboro, is the guest of Miss Elsa Fitch in Parkland.

Miss Carrie Holzheimer, of Anchorage, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Philip Bohue.

Miss Effie Dillard spent the week at Elizabethtown as the guest of Mrs. Lula Warren.

Mrs. George Dalton, of Hopkinsville, spent the week in Louisville as the guest of friends.

Mrs. Harry A. Swann has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Latt Hilt at Lagrange.

Miss Mary Combs spent a pleasant week as the guest of Mrs. H. D. Rodman at Bardonia.

Mrs. E. O. Murphy, of Marengo, has returned home after a pleasant visit to friends in New Albany.

Mrs. J. W. McCarthy has returned to her home in Fordville. She was the guest of friends in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dalton, of Warsaw, were this week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. Dalton on Evelyn avenue.

Mrs. John Flanigan, of Jeffersonville, has gone to pay a two week's visit to her sister, Mrs. Joseph Fielding, at Fort Worth, Texas.

Miss Emily Powers is the guest of Miss Bessie Allen, of Henderson. She will also visit her sister, Mrs. Hugh Kimbley, at Owensboro.

Miss Sallie Eggen, of Shelbyville, and Miss Mamie Eggen, of Louisville, were the guests of relatives in Elizabethtown during the present week.

Edward White, of the No. 18 Engine Company, who was injured while going to a fire several weeks ago, is improving, but is not yet able to resume his duties.

Peter Murray and Miss Jennie Nichol were married at St. Charles Borromeo's church at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Both are popular young people of the West End.

Miss Elizabeth Tarpey entertained Thursday night with a euchre and dance at her home, 2206 West Chestnut street, in honor of Miss Margaret Neumann, a charming and beautiful girl of Indianapolis.

Miss Lee McCluskey, the pretty and accomplished daughter of M. J. McCluskey, the well known contractor, left Tuesday for Chicago, where she will spend a month as the guest of friends and relatives.

Mrs. McMahon and daughter, Miss Hattie, and niece, Miss Edyth, and Will Hall, all of this city, are the guests of Mrs. Amanda Hall and daughter, Miss Mace, at Mt. Washington.

A pretty and healthy baby boy arrived to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McFarland, 620 Fulton street, last Sunday morning. Mother and child are doing nicely and Papa McFarland is receiving congratulations.

More sunlight has been brought into the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hannon, 1336 Rosewood avenue, through the advent of a pretty baby boy. The mother and child are doing well and the father is receiving congratulations.

Hardy Bryant and Miss Nellie Bleich, popular young people of Paducah, will be united in matrimony at the home of the bride on Tuesday, November 24. The Rev. Father Jansen, pastor of St. Francis de Sales church, will officiate.

The many friends of John Daum, of the Times composing room force, who recently underwent a dangerous surgical operation at St. Joseph's Infirmary, will be glad to hear that he is improving rapidly and will soon be able to be out.

The many friends of George Quinlan and Miss Mary Warren will be delighted to learn of their marriage, which was solemnized Tuesday evening, Rev. Father Walsh performing the ceremony. The bride and groom are held in high esteem throughout the West End, and a happy married life is predicted for them.

Miss Anna T. Eisenman, one of the most charming and cultured girls in Indianapolis society, is here to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Joseph L. Strassel, at Southern Heights. Miss Eisenman formerly lived in Louisville and will be the recipient of much social entertainment during her stay in this city.

Fred L. Lutz and Miss Alice Anita Blakemore will be married at the Cathedral of the Assumption at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, November 25. Miss Blakemore is one of Lagrange's most accomplished young ladies. The lucky groom is associated with his father in the malt and grain business in this city.

Naomi Clapham, the pretty daughter of Mrs. Del Clapham, celebrated her seventh birthday at her home, 1162 Zane street, on Monday from 2 till 6 o'clock. Quite a number of her little friends were present. The tables were tastefully decorated in white and pink. The guests were entertained with vocal and instrumental music and a cake walk. Among the presents received was a handsome diamond ring.

John Grady and Miss Louise Lawton will be married at Holy Name church at 8:30 o'clock on Thanksgiving morning, the Rev. Father O'Connor officiating. Mr. Grady is a popular railroad engineer. His bride-to-be is the daughter of Richard W. Lawton, a well known Louisville & Nashville railroad conductor. She is a charming young lady. Nuptial mass will follow the marriage ceremony.

R. Emmet Noonan and Miss Margaret Haley, popular young people of Frankfort, were married at the church of the Good Shepherd on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. Father Major officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jane Purcell Haley, and a sister of Assistant Adjutant General Percy Haley. She is a beautiful and accomplished young woman. Mr. Noonan is connected with the Frankfort offices of the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ashton Stovall, of Montgomery, Ala., will arrive in Louisville on their bridal tour next Wednesday morning. The bride is quite well known in Louisville as Miss Mayme Manning. She is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of William Manning, formerly of this city, now of Montgomery, and a niece of Mrs. Thomas P. Clines. During a visit to Louisville a year ago Miss Manning made quite a favorable impression in social circles.

The members of the Entertainment Committee of Branch 25, Catholic Knights of America, their respective wives, and a few other members of the order, called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Garaghty, 510 East Broadway on Tuesday evening, where they were pleasantly received by the host and hostess. An enjoyable evening was spent in social conversation and at the close the guests sat down to a bountiful supper prepared by Mrs. Garaghty.

Walter E. Leachman and Miss Anna Blanche Leahy were married at the Church of St. Francis of Rome, Clifton, at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, the Rev. Father White officiating. The bride wore a princess gown of pearl moire silk, with a long tulle veil, and carried a bouquet of roses. She was preceded up the aisle by Mrs. Frank Jones, the lady of honor. The little flower girls were Misses Virginia Wiesen, a niece of the bride, and Katherine Seaman, the bride's cousin. Dr. Henry A. Jones, of Cincinnati, was best man. The ushers were Daniel J. Leahy, John D. Watson, William Leachman and Joseph W. Zahner. After the ceremony the happy pair left on a bridal tour. They will make their home at Springfield. Mr. Leachman is a prominent young business man of that growing city. The bride is the daughter of J. K. Leahy, of Clifton, the well known coal dealer.

SUCCESSFUL EUCHE.

The euchre given at Liederkranz Hall by the Jefferson County Catholic Federation on Thursday night was a success socially and financially. The prize winners were Messrs. Henry Bosquet, J. H. Gilbert, Thomas Malone, Seldin Metzler, R. E. O'Connor, John L. McCracklin, Eugene J. Cooney, J. V. Schwaninger, C. J. Thoben, W. J. Robbert and Mesdames L. Rosenbaum, M. M. Bruker, M. Fusco, J. L. McCracklin, J. Leverone, D. Stern, Misses Mary Cummins, Lorena May Lauer, Margaret Coleman and G. Sternberg. The booby prize was won by Rose Aaron.

Delegates from the different societies are requested to make returns immediately to Secretary John J. Barry at the Kentucky Irish American office, so that a full report may be made at the next meeting of the Federation.

IRISH LADY HONORED.

Pope Pius X. has sent the gold cross "Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice" to Mrs. Maher, a pious lady of Mayvoughy, Ireland, in recognition of her services in spreading the devotion of the novena of St. Patrick. Mrs. Maher has traveled through Ireland inducing the school children to join in the novenas. It is believed that the Irish Bishops will take steps to have this pious custom made permanent.

ARTISTIC JOB PRINTING.

The Kentucky Irish American is equipped and prepared to do all kinds of fancy and artistic job printing, dance and wedding invitations, visiting and business cards, dodgers, programmes, euchre tally cards, etc. Prompt attention is given to all orders and satisfaction is guaranteed. Give us a trial with your next order of printing. Home telephone 946.

BILLY SMALL HOME.

Billy Small, the popular Superintendent of the Street Cleaning Department, has returned from a trip to St. Louis, where he went to inspect new apparatus that is being used on the streets there. Mr. Small is of the opinion that our street cleaning service compares favorably with that of St. Louis in proportion to the size of the city.

Spirituality without morality is a mere whistle without works.

ST. MARY'S BAZAR

Will Conclude With Grand Thanksgiving Supper on Thursday Evening.

The ladies of St. Mary's congregation will conduct a bazar or festival in the school hall at Eighth and Grayson streets, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, each day afternoon and evening. Many handsome articles have been secured and will be disposed of during the festival, and on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock a grand Thanksgiving supper will be served.

Tuesday afternoon the feature will be a coffee social, Wednesday afternoon being given to the children for a carnival. The bazar will close on Friday with a mammoth euchre, games to be played both afternoon and night.

The Rev. Father Westermann has worked early and late for his congregation, and the ladies desire to make this bazar a success, to show their appreciation of his services.

HINTS ON STYLE.

Moleskin has taken the place of squirrel as the fad of the season and the craze for it bids fair to rage even more furiously than last year's squirrel craze. Chinchilla has, apparently through intrinsic beauty and costliness, taken rank among the elect few and may be bought without fear that it will be out of fashion in another season.

When heavy materials are employed the skirt in almost every instance retains rather close-fitting lines at the top, with a decided flare at the bottom. Strappings, braid, etc., will be extensively used for decoration.

All skirts, save those for dress occasions, are being made shorter and are taking on a round line, and although long, trailing skirts are still the favorite for evening wear, many frocks intended for elaborate functions are made without a train, being cut round and merely clearing the floor. There are many attractive new designs for loose coats for afternoon wear. The materials used for these garments are the lustrous-faced cloths, silky zibelines and velvets, and in many instances they are elaborately trimmed. The long shoulder line is achieved by the addition of one or two capes.

The subject of coats is an interesting one, and the variety of styles is sufficiently great to enable every one to find something individually becoming. Close fitting coats will occupy a conspicuous place among the winter modes. To have this coat a success it must be fashioned by a first-class tailor or modiste.

Stooping shoulders—in fact, the elimination of all shoulder lines—is a distinctive feature of the newest modes, and this is accomplished not only through the shaping of the garment, but by the disposition of the trimming as well. Coats and bolices both carry out this idea, which is particularly becoming to the tall, slender figure.

The hip yoke is far too becoming to be banished, and many of the smartest skirts are characterized by this feature, which by the way may be carried out in numerous ways. A new four gored walking skirt may be made with the hip yoke. The skirt is tucked in inverted box-plaited style to graduated flounce depth. A row of buttons down each seam add a pretty touch, especially when the skirt is made of dark blue cloth and the buttons are gilt.

BAZAR AT ST. JAMES'.

The ladies of St. James' congregation at Elizabethtown conducted one of the most successful bazars ever held in that section on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Refreshments were served every afternoon and evening. Many valuable articles were disposed of and quite a neat sum was realized. The money will be used in erecting a steeple on St. James' church.

SOGARO CHOSEN.

Monsignor Sogaro, a Venetian by birth, has been appointed to succeed Cardinal Merry Del Val as President of the Academy of Noble Ecclesiastics. The position is a very important one, as most of the Venetian diplomats are drawn from this academy. Monsignor Sogaro was for many years Apostolic Vicar in the Sudan and is a man of high attainments.

JOHN EVANS IMPROVES.

John Evans, a well known young Irish-American, who fell from a street car at Seventh and Kentucky streets about one week ago and sustained painful injuries, is making favorable progress. His friends are glad to learn of his rapid improvement.

CONDITION MORE FAVORABLE.

Peter Riley, son of Capt. Tom Riley, who has been ill of typhoid fever, is still seriously ill, although his condition is more favorable than at any time since his illness. His speedy recovery is hoped for by many friends.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM

Displayed at the Meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., held a well attended meeting Wednesday night despite the cold weather. Miss Mary Cavanaugh presided and all the officers were present. Miss Mary Joyce was initiated and the applications of Misses Mamie and Ella Fitzgerald and Nora Coburn were received. An invitation from Division 1 to attend its open meeting on December 8 was accepted with thanks.

Miss Mary Sheridan was called upon and made a brief address expressing her delight with the progress that was being made by the auxiliary. State Secretary William T. Meahan announced that the new and handsome charter had arrived, and that the robes and paraphernalia for
 the degree team would soon be ordered.
 Quite a number of gentlemen, all Irishmen, attended the meeting and expressed their pleasant surprise at the interest shown by the ladies, for of the total of about 150 members more than half were in attendance and all seemed to be enthusiastic.

State President Thomas Keenan made several excellent suggestions on the ritual. Mrs. Annie Nevill Cunningham advocated vocal and instrumental music at the meetings, and kindly offered her services. Her offer was accepted at once and she played several airs by request.
 Miss Mary Cochran sang excellently an old but popular Irish ballad. This put everybody in a good humor and a very pleasant half hour was spent in social conversation.

CARE IN CHOOSING FRIENDS.

No thoughtful person who has lived to mid-life can ever fail to note the effect upon the character and career of young men of the young women whom they choose as their early companions. Many young men of large promise, of good abilities, of earnest aspirations, of generous impulses, have been turned aside from their career, their ardor quenched, their aspirations shorn of wings, their impulses chilled to death by the young women whom they choose to make their companions and friends. On the other hand, many young men of plain and ordinary gifts, of common earnestness, have been led to higher excellence, to nobler manliness, to success of the truest kind by the young women whom they choose as their friends. Young men should know that the whole matter of their success or failure in life, the making of something worthy of themselves, or the wrecking of all, depends far more than they can know or dream upon the women they choose in early life as their companions, and then on the women whom they take from among these for the inner, sacred holy place as wife.

WINNING TOGETHER.

It is a great thing for a husband and wife to win the battle together, to have the same aims and to be in mutual sympathy at the same time. When a man begins life poor, with a debt as a legacy and his younger brothers and sisters as his care, it is the woman's place to help him economize, not to claim every dollar herself as fast as he earns it, nor to make his burden heavier by needless extravagance and use of credit. When he desires to rise in the world, whether he be struggling for an education or entering upon a public career, she should not hold him back by her lack of ambition, nor drag him down by her moral weakness, but bravely and cordially say: "I am going along with you." Discouragement only requires him to study how he can overcome the objections raised, to postpone his plans or to fall behind in the race, when he should be pressing on toward the mark of his high aspiration.
 But if this should be said as a caution,
 how much should be said in gratitude?
 No one could even tell what is due to those wonderful women who in this inspiring age have done their duty to the fullest—those generous and loyal souls who have waited through the long years of preparation and hardship, when the indications of ability in their husbands have been so slight as to cause distrust among their friends; who have managed the household, worked in the factory or the store, spoken on the lecture platform, or written for the press and made sacrifices unnumbered and unknown. All praise to these, the angels of success.
 No crown too rich with love's bright jewels for their exceeding great reward.

There is nothing so good to clean furniture as a woolen rag dampened in spirits of turpentine. This takes all the dust and cloud from carvings and panels.
 When they have been thoroughly cleaned with the turpentine go over the surface
 again with a flannel dipped in linseed oil, rubbing it well into the wood.

LIFE A SONG.

Life is a song
 That should ring to the skies,
 An anthem that grandly
 And gladly should rise.

Life is a song
 That is ended too soon.
 Ah! why should we ever
 Be heard out of tune?

MACAULEY'S.

George Ade's musical comedy, "Peggy
 From Paris," will be the attraction at Macauley's Theater all of next week. It has had a great run in the East. Matinees will be given on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

MASONIC THEATER.

Those ever popular entertainers, Ward and Vokes, will hold the boards at the new Masonic Theater all of next week.
 This time their vehicle of humor is entitled "A Pair of Plunks." The show has proved popular in the East and North.

BUCKINGHAM.

The Criterion Vanity Fair Extravaganza Company will hold the boards at the Buckingham Theater next week. It is described as a new departure in burlesque, with great comedians and astounding specialties. Mademoiselle Ani, the aerial artist, is named as the bright particular star in the olio. The performance will open with the burlesque,
 "Hotel Waldorf Astoria," and closes with "Reilly's Reception." In addition to the regular matinees a special matinee will be given on Thanksgiving day.

RIEGER & ARCHER.

Rieger & Archer, the well known photographers at Broadway and Baxter avenue, are making a great name for themselves in their profession. At present they are with the "Hunts of Houses" expedition touring the South, taking photographs of celebrities and points of interest for the newspapers. Messrs Rie-

DEATH CALLED

And Michael J. Garvey Went to Answer the Final Summons.

Michael J. Garvey, an old and highly respected citizen of Louisville, died at the family residence, on the northeast corner of Clay and Green streets, last Sunday afternoon. The deceased leaves three children, James Garvey, steward at the Willard Hotel; David Garvey, who is in business on Fifth street, and Miss Nellie Garvey.

Mr. Garvey was born in the parish of Ballinrobe, County Mayo, Ireland, more than sixty years ago and came to Kentucky in 1857. He spent some time in Hardin county and then removed to Louisville, where he resided more than forty years. He was a self-made and thrifty man and for many years conducted the Palace Hotel, at Ninth and Main streets. He had friends in all parts of the city and there are few Irish-Americans in Louisville who are more highly spoken of than was Mike Garvey. The funeral took place from the Cathedral at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning. A great concourse of his friends followed the remains to their last resting place.

BED-TIME.

On the Missouri & Pacific train out of Kansas City, a few years ago, was a mother and four children—three girls and one boy. They had left Chicago the day before and were on their way to Leadville, where the husband and father had a claim, which was to be their new home. The eldest girl appeared to be about fourteen, and from that age they ranged down to the only boy, a chubby, little fellow, about five. Their dress and manners showed that they had not been reared in the midst of luxury, but withal
 they were model children and scrupulously clean. The mother was thin, her face haggard from the worry of the long trip and the care of her precious little flock, for there were seven or eight long hours yet before the journey's end. It was after bed-time when the train left Kansas City, and the children were yawning and scarcely able to stay awake.
 In fact, the boy, the pet of the family, had closed his eyes and was fast assleeping "shut-eye town," while the next older tugged at him as she looked appealingly to her mother with an expression that was pitiful. He mustn't go to sleep yet, the others began whispering among themselves, and then to the mother, as if something exciting had happened, or would happen soon, all of which attracted the attention of the other passengers who sat in wonderment
 as they tried to divine the cause of so much whispering and such strenuous efforts to keep the least one awake.
 They occupied seats in the rear end of the car, holding a long seat which runs along the smoking partition. Presently the cause of all this excitement was made plain—it was bed-time, and they had not said their prayers. Quietly, modestly, without ostentation or display
 —yes, even timidly, the mother and her children knelt at the long seat. They made the sign of the cross and said their evening prayers. Just for a few minutes, and then they arose, the children were made as comfortable as possible for the night, and soon all but the mother were asleep, while the traveling man with his grips, the business man with his worries,
 and the other passengers, paid a silent but mighty tribute to the greatest civil-izing agent of all ages—the Catholic religion. One of the passengers said:
 "God save the mother and her children,
 bringing them to their homes in safety,
 and to their last days in peace."

FOOLING THE NEIGHBORS.

Terence O'Grady had only been married a week, but his bride was already making things lively in the little house in Ballybunion. He had been working for three hours in his little garden, when Bridget came to the back door and called out in strident tones:

"Terence, me boy, come in to tay,
 toast and foive eggs."

Terence dropped his spade in astonishment and ran into the kitchen.

"Shure, Bridget, alannah, ye're only coddin' me," he said.

"Nay, Terence," replied Bridget, "it's not ye, it's the neighbors I'm coddin'!"

He had been out late. When he reached his residence the clock was chiming five.
 Heavy, weary, disgusted, he opened the front door with some difficulty and softly toiled up the stairs, entering the bedchamber with elaborate caution. Thank goodness, she was asleep. He dropped into a chair, and without taking off his coat or hat began to remove his shoes.
 One he placed with great care upon the floor, but, alas, as he took off the other it slipped out of his hand and fell with a loud noise.

"Wife!" awoke on the instant. She

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The Department of Agriculture has decided to erect a pier for the fishermen of Tramore.

John Hughes, a resident of Dublin, was struck by a tram car and was so badly injured that he died a few hours later.

Thomas McCarthy, a well known merchant of Tallow, died recently. He is survived by a wife and several children.

Alice Miller, fifty-six years of age, was found dead in her room in the city of Cork. The Coroner pronounced death due to heart disease.

There is a movement on foot to re-elect James A. Power Mayor of Waterford, so well has he performed his duties during the past year.

John Riordan, a lamplighter, fell from Parliament bridge into the River Lee and was drowned. The victim of the accident was highly respected.

Daniel Cummins, for more than forty years an employee of the Cork & Bandon railway, died a short time ago at his home, near Kinsale Junction.

The body of Mary K. Hall, an eighteen-year-old girl, who had been missing from her home at Fermoy, was recently recovered from the River Blackwater.

Magistrate William James O'Meara has been transferred from County Fermanagh to Cork and Magistrate John Gray has been transferred from Cork to Fermanagh.

Owen Sheehan, formerly of Mallow, died at the home of his sister-in-law at Greenane. The deceased was a highly respected citizen and his death causes general regret.

The suit of Lord De Freyne against Irish political leaders to recover damages alleged to be due as the result of a conspiracy to induce his tenants to withhold their rents, has been postponed till February 25.

A farmer named Connors died recently at Kauturk and his wife died a few hours later. Both were elderly people and were highly respected. The double funeral was attended by the people for many miles around.

It is alleged that an attempt was recently made to assassinate Simon White, the resident owner of Glengarriff Castle. The neighbors and tenants insist that White originated the story to create sympathy for himself.

A recent rainstorm which swept over Ireland was most severe in the County Limerick. The River Feale and its tributaries were flooded to points which have rarely been exceeded and the condition of agricultural affairs presents an unsatisfactory prospect. The farmers are very much discouraged.

Robert Walsh, a well known citizen of Cork, died recently in London, whither he had gone to visit his three sons. He had always taken a very active interest in Irish political affairs and his death is generally regretted.

The Rev. Dr. Hennebery, formerly professor of Gaelic in the Catholic University at Washington, and the Rev. J. P. Fielding, of Chicago, who are now in Ireland, recently delivered lectures on the Gaelic movement at Clonmel.

The Rev. Father Barrett has resigned the Presidency of the Cork Branch of the United Irish League and the Rev. Father D. O'Flynn has been elected in his stead. Resolutions were adopted deploring the resignation of Father Barrett.

The Greater Cork International Exhibition has been brought to a successful close. The Lord Mayor and all the members of the executive committee took part in the closing ceremonies. The exhibition was hardly as successful as it was last year.

The recent death of the Rev. Father Thomas Walsh, parish priest at Ballyporee, has caused widespread regret. Father Walsh was sixty-four years old and was beloved by his parishioners and fellow-clergyman alike. He was born near Cappoquin and was educated at St. John's Seminary, Waterford.

The Rev. Father D. J. O'Connor, pastor of Ballyduff, County Waterford, has been called to his eternal reward after a long and successful career in the sacred ministry. Father O'Connor had rendered excellent service to the Gaelic revival movement. Death has been rapidly thinning the ranks of the parish priests in Waterford during the past few months.

The Gilman property, near Dumanway, has been sold to the tenants. Agent Holmes appeared for the landlord, while the tenants appeared in person. Their spokesmen were the Rev. Father Murphy, J. H. Powell and P. Walsh. According to the terms of sale the tenants reserve all sporting and fishing rights on their holdings. The least reduction that first term tenants obtained was 40 per cent, and second term tenants 25 per cent. A few tenants obtained additional concessions. In all cases half a year's rent was forgiven. The terms are considered favorable.

HURT IN WRECK.

Stephen E. Mooney has been brought to his home, 721 Ohio avenue, Jeffersonville. He was injured in a wreck at Princeton, Ind., and suffered the fracture of two ribs. Since his return home Mr. Mooney's condition has improved very rapidly.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Division 4 will confer the degrees on a large class Wednesday night.

A new division of the order has been organized at South St. Paul. It will be known as Division 3.

Division 1 will hold an important meeting Tuesday night and will initiate a number of candidates.

Division 4, Ladies' Auxiliary, of Scranton, now has a membership of 120, although it is not one year old.

A uniformed company of Hibernian rifles has been organized at Youngstown, Ohio. The new organization starts out with forty members.

Nine candidates were initiated as members of Division 7 of Providence at the last meeting. The Attleboro degree team conferred the degrees.

Division 1 of Minneapolis held memorial services at the Cathedral last week. Requiem mass was celebrated by the chaplain, Father Corbett.

Eight new members were initiated at the last meeting of the New Haven branch of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Eight applications were received on the same evening.

Many of the leading members of the order in Buffalo paid a visit to the Right Rev. Bishop Colton last week, and were formally presented to His Lordship by the Rev. John J. Ryan, County Chaplain. The new Bishop expressed his pleasure at meeting representatives of this splendid Irish society.

At the next meeting of Division 4 resolutions will be adopted on the death of William Lyden, who was killed in the recent wreck on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, the charter will be draped in black and his death benefit will be allowed.

At a meeting of the order in Milwaukee last Monday night sixty new members were initiated. This brings the division up to 400. It has not been long since the Milwaukee division had dwindled away to almost nothing and was on the point of disbanding. New blood and good management turned the tide and now it is one of the largest divisions in the Northwest.

The Suffolk County Board, representing all the Hibernians in Boston, has decided to hold a mammoth parade on St. Patrick's day. The Presidents of each of the seventy-four divisions in the county were appointed to make the arrangements. This will be the first parade given by the Boston Hibernians in twelve years. The County Board is also making arrangements for a field day to be held in May.
